Taxation for offshore investment

Gain from offshore investment;

- Capital Gain
- Dividend
- Interest

If the client returns gain back in THB in the same year of investment, the client must calculate the gain in income tax.

The client must pay the tax if meet 2 conditions;

(1) The income earner who is Thai residence and live in Thailand 180 days.

(2) The income earner who brings the money back to Thailand.

Examples

1. The client transferred THB 500,000 for offshore investment in 2023 and received capital gain THB 500,000 in the same year. Total investment amount was THB 1,000,000. Would client pay the income tax, if he brought the money back THB 100,000 in 2023.

-> The client would not pay the income tax because THB 100,000 can count as principal.

Now, total investment amount was THB 900,000 (principal THB 400,000 and capital gain THB 500,000)

2. If the client brought THB 400,000 back in 2024, would the client pay the income tax?

-> The client would not pay the income tax because this amount can count as principal.

Now, total investment amount was THB 500,000 (principal THB 0 and capital gain THB 500,000)

3. If the client brought THB 200,000 back in 2025, would the client pay the income tax?

-> The client would not pay the income tax because this amount can count as principal.

Now, total investment amount was THB 300,000 (principal THB 0 and capital gain THB 300,000)

Summary : If you withdraw more than the principal invested, you must pay taxes.
